Hi Ankit,

Congratulations on your offer! Google is pleased to offer Relocation Support in the form of a cash payment in the amount of INR 420,000, less taxes. Please note that your relocation support at Google is determined by your job level at the time you accept your offer.

The relocation cash payment is considered to be taxable income and will be subject to all applicable taxes and withholdings in accordance with local tax regulations. You will receive the cash payment after taxes.

As per the conditions of your Google offer letter ("Offer Letter"), you are reminded of the following terms which apply to your Relocation Support.

Repayment to the Company

Relocation support is contingent on you relocating to your assigned work location, and your being employed by the Company and remaining so employed for a period of 12 months from your start date.

In accepting relocation support, you acknowledge that you are required to permanently relocate and be physically present in your new employment location by your assigned start date. Relocation support is contingent on you meeting eligibility criteria and complying with policy terms and conditions; including your physical presence in your new employment location by your assigned start date. Failure to be physically present in your new employment location by your assigned start date and/or failure to continue to adhere to hybrid work week requirements may result in the forfeiture of relocation support.

Upon voluntary termination of employment, if the date of termination is within 12 (twelve) months of the commencement date in the new role, you will be required to repay Google a prorated amount of your relocation cash lump sum.

Sincerely,

Google Relocation Team
